LE DROIT PARK.

This delightful suburban property sprang into existence and grew rapidly in spite of hard times and a dull real estate market. It is the only property in the District that has held its own or advanced in value during that time. The revival of business is sure to carry it up with greater rapidity than any other property in the District. Now is the time to buy. Prices are still lower, due regard being had to all the elements of value than that of any other property, and we will give terms of purchase that cannot be equalled elsewhere.

More than fifty houses of varied sizes, style and cost have been built, all but two or three of which are occupied, (and many of them owned,) by families of unexceptionable social standing and character—in all more than three hundred persons.

Houses and lots for sale upon terms to suit.

Purchasers of lots who make immediate improvements can have a term of years in which to pay for the ground at a low rate of interest.

Those visiting the property should take the Seventh or Ninth street cars to Boundary street. Carriages will be furnished when desired.

LE DROIT BUILDING

Offers to business men the finest offices at the lowest rates. It is in the heart of the city. It was built, and rooms are let, solely for office uses. All the partition walls are of brick, extending to the top of the building. The offices are well ventilated and thoroughly lighted. A few rooms to let at rates to suit the times.

Webster's Dictionary used in the Government Printing Office, 1877. Every school and family should have it for constant use and reference. Several years' help in training children to become intelligent men and women. Several years later, and has one-fifth more matter, than any other large Dictionary. He authorized editor in Courts of Justice, for the meaning of words. Recommended by U. S. Chief Justice Waite, as "the highest authority for definitions."

THE STANDARD.

For schools—recommended by State Superintendents of 35 different States, and by 50 College Presidents. About 32,000 have been placed in Public Schools by law or by School Officers. Contains 3,000 illustrations, nearly three times as many as any other Dictionary. Three pictures of a ship, on page 1751, illustrate the meaning of more than 100 words. The 1040-page Webster is 20 times as great as that of any other series of Dictionaries.

All work attended to promptly, and at a FAIR PRICE FOR GOOD WORK.

THE BEST OF REFERENCES.

Your custom is most respectfully solicited, and your orders will be promptly filled.

New Gas Fixtures put up, and rebronzing, regilding and repairing of Gas Fixtures, Statuary, Statuettes, &c., carefully done.
Furnaces, Latrobe Stoves, and Ranges set, and repairs made in a thorough manner.
In any of the aforementioned branches, if you have had bad work done, endangering your health or depriving you of comfort, have it attended to immediately.

TO ECONOMIZE IN THE USE OF GAS.

Regulate the flow of gas by means of the lever, which is on the stopcock at the inlet side of the meter, only using enough pressure to give sufficient light to the number of burners in actual use, (the burners should always be kept in good condition, and of a proper size.) When you have turned the lever so as to give the proper amount of light, mark where it rests, so that when using the light you can turn it to that point. When not in use during daylight the gas should be turned entirely off at the meter.

Twenty-three years' experience in the trade of Plumbing. Give me a call.
DIRECTORY

STREETS, AVENUES, ALLEYS, ROADS, &c.

There are 1170 originally laid out blocks or squares, bounded by 21 avenues, and over 100 streets in the city, irrespective of the suburbs. The Capitol is nearly the centre of the city, and from it the streets are laid out at right angles, and, according to our new system of numbering, are divided into four grand cardinal sections. All the streets lying northwest of the Capitol have northwest attached them, those south-east, southwest and northeast are named in the same manner. The new system of numbering is called the decimal system, and is on the principle of allowing 100 for every square. It is beneficial to the city in case of fire or tearing down of a block of buildings. It does not disarrange the numbers ahead of that square. The streets named alphabetically run east and west from North and South Capitol streets; the streets named by numerals run north and south from East Capitol and the Mall. The avenues are laid out diagonally, as to the right-angle streets; their names will be found below. Many of the squares or blocks are so large that additional streets and alleys have been opened and named. Many of these alleys were named by the Directory men while canvassing, generally from some local cause. A glance at the past and present list of streets and avenues will show how these latter are increasing. We have added a list of all the roads, places and villages in the District, which will be found very useful.

GLENWOOD CEMETERY.

This beautiful "City of the Dead" is located on Lincoln Avenue, about half a mile from Boundary Street, situated on the high ground overlooking the City of Washington, and on the line with North Capitol Street. It contains about ninety acres, and laid out on the plan of the celebrated Greenwood Cemetery of New York. The remains of many of Washington's most noted citizens are here interred.

Glenwood was incorporated July 27, 1854, which Act of Incorporation was amended February 27, 1877, committing the control and direction of the Cemetery to a Board of five Trustees, to be elected annually. The present Board consists of—

Judge THOMAS W. BARTLEY, THOMAS J. FISHER, JOHN McCLELLAND, GEORGE T. KEEN, and LEWIS CLEPHANE.

Judge THOS. W. BARTLEY, President,
JOHN McCLELLAND, Treasurer,

EXECUTIVE.

The Executive Mansion, or White House as it is familiarly called, is on Pennsylvania avenue, between 15th and 17th streets nw, and fronting Lafayette Square. It was erected in 1792; rebuilt after the war of 1812. It is built of freestone and painted white. The lawns around, containing some twenty acres, drop gradually toward the Potomac river. This elegant but not imposing edifice is two stories high, 170 long, 86 feet deep. On the Pennsylvania avenue front the building has a portico, with four Ionic columns, under which carriages pass. A circular colonade of six Doric pillars adorns the Potomac front. In the centre of Lafayette Square, across the avenue on the north, is Clark Mill's bronze equestrian statue of General Jackson erected in January, 1853. The artist has the honor to be the first to succeed in erecting a statue representing a steed poised upon its hind feet, with no other support. It is cast of cannon taken by Jackson, and cost $50,000. Near the President's mansion, on the west side, is the new State, War and Navy Department building, and on the east side the Treasury Department.

COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES.

The Smithsonian Institution is within the area of the Mall, west of the Capitol, and south of Pennsylvania avenue. This noble institution was endowed by James Smithson, of England, "for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men." The edifice is constructed of the red sandstone in the Norman Romanesque style. Its length is 450 feet, its breadth 140, and its nine towers from 75 to 150 high. The immense library formerly in this institution has been transferred to the Congressional Library. The national collections of natural history, geology, etc., of the United States Exploring and Surveying Expeditions are deposited in the institution. The preservation of these collections is but a part of the operations of the establishment. Through its influence a series of scientific investigations are carried on by collaborators in different parts of the country, and the results are published in a series of quarto volumes, called the "Smithsonian Contributions to Knowledge," copies of which are sent in exchange for other publications to all the principal libraries in the world. Officers—Presiding officer, ex officio, R. B. Hayes, President of the U.S.; Secretary and Director, Samuel P. Langley; Chief Clerk, W. J. Rhee; Corresponding Clerk, Daniel Leech; Bookkeeper, C. B. Business Education,

The majority of the youth of our country, after years of training in common and select schools, are not qualified to earn their own living, much less to contribute to the support of others. This fact is the source of great disappointment to thousands of families, and the cause of untold distress on every hand. The mistake is not that parents make too great sacrifices for the education of their children, but that the education provided for them does not point directly toward business or industrial life. In fact it is miscellaneous, impractical, and points directly at nothing.

Nine-tenths of the pupils attending the schools of our land are compelled to leave them before the age of sixteen to begin, in earnest, the duties of life, while the remaining one-tenth pursue their studies to various stages of scholastic attainment.

It is frequently felt to be a hardship that an intelligent youth should end his school life at so early an age; but it should be remembered that the proprietors of most kinds of business prefer to take into their employ persons yet "in their teens," for several reasons. The wages are less than an adult would demand, the youth is more tractable and willing to adapt himself to the needs of the business, and is more likely to become a valuable aid in securing its permanency and success; and this is especially the case if the previous training has developed his business faculties.

The right education of our vast army of youth for life's sturdy conflict is the most important duty the fathers and mothers of our day need to consider. Many parents do feel the grave responsibility of thoughtful action in this matter, and sensible men and women are becoming convinced that the education which best prepares one for the daily practical duties of life is the one chiefly to be desired.

What are the essentials of such an education?

The English Language—in this country—how to read it, how to think in it, how to speak it, how to write it, should receive the first attention. The old, unwieldy text-books, with their dry-as-dust methods and rules, deaden interest, and make our beautiful English, which should be a fascinating study, a dread to the student. To stimulate living thought concerning the affairs of our times, to criticise incorrect habits of speech, to inculcate correct expression of intelligent thoughts by voice and pen, make the study of language a delight to both teacher and pupil; and this is the method successfully pursued in the Spencerian Business College.

Business Calculations, or Arithmetic applied to business, is an essential part of a practical education. Business in this age requires short, clear, labor-saving, lightning methods of calculation, and a young person acquainted only with old, cumbersome methods cannot meet the demand. The new and short methods are taught and applied in this College, and graduates frequently express their thanks for having been thus prepared to secure and retain responsible positions.

Book-keeping, the systematic record of affairs of every description involving pecuniary values and obligations, is, of logical necessity, the central study of a business course. This subject should not be limited in its scope to mercantile pursuits, but should reach the needs of every legitimate business enterprise in this country. A well trained book-keeper should be able to conduct with accuracy and ease the books of a bank, a government office, any mercantile, industrial or professional enterprise, or a farm. Graduates of the Spencerian Business College are thorough and reliable accountants.

Business Penmanship, generally neglected in schools, or improperly and imperfectly taught, receives in the Business College the attention its great use and importance demand. Hence its students, almost without exception, acquire distinguished excellence in the beautiful art of penmanship.

Business Forms and Practice.—The numerous and varied business transactions recorded in different sets of book-keeping involve the receiving and disbursing of moneys, the drawing up and exchanging of business papers, the receiving and writing of business letters, rendering statements, account sales, &c., &c. This business practice, for the student, conducted in such a manner that all of his errors are detected and faults corrected, constitutes a practical training of inestimable value.

Science of Wealth.—A knowledge of the principles of moral and economic science, called political economy, is essential to the success of the individual, and helps to bring him into harmony with what is right and just in society, and thus into orderly life and useful citizenship.

Laws of Business.—An acquaintance with such laws of business as protect and define a citizen’s common and universal rights is necessary to enable one to live safely in a community, and, therefore, is an essential feature of a business education.

The Spencerian Business College has experienced and successful instructors, and is equipped for giving, in the most effective manner, the above course of instruction.

During the sixteen years since the establishment of this institution by Bryant & Stratton, the original Proprietors, it has been well known to the citizens of the National Capital, and to the people of the United States. Its halls have always been thronged with ambitious students, who have gone forth to their life work commending it to relatives, friends and acquaintances, who have, in turn, secured for themselves within its walls a practical education.

THE SCHOLASTIC YEAR

Begins Monday, August 30, but the Institution will be open for the reception of students on and after Monday, August 23, and scholarships for a scholastic year of ten months are issued at any time. Arrangements can also be made by the quarter at any time.

GRADUATION.

It is for the interest of those who enter upon a course of business training that they should complete it, and graduate with honor. Thereby they secure thorough knowledge and skill, and, passing out into the business world with the endorsement of the Institution, obtain situations more easily and maintain them more successfully.

The annual public graduating exercises are held in June, and are attended by thousands of the intelligent, enterprising, cultured people of the National Capital.

BUSINESS OR SENIOR DEPARTMENT.

Persons of good character, over fifteen years of age, who understand arithmetic through percentage and have a fair knowledge of English grammar, will be received in the Senior Department.

The Business Course embraces the English Language, Business Arithmetic, Spencerian Practical Penmanship, Book-keeping, by single and double entry, adapted to every variety of business; Business Practice, requiring the making out and exchanging of all kinds of business papers, paying and receiving cash, keeping the accounts and writing the letters; Elocution, Lectures on Political Economy, Commercial Geography, Commercial Law, and Business Ethics.

Incidental Lectures upon Health, Temperance, Virtue, Economy, Thrift, Enterprise, General Deportment, and all the qualities and acquirements indispensable to good citizenship, and to a noble manhood and womanhood, are given upon suitable occasions in the spirit in which good fathers and mothers counsel their sons and daughters.

Successful Business Men, Lawyers, Physicians, Scientific Men, and Statesmen are invited from time to time to address the students upon subjects relating to their various callings.
TIME REQUIRED TO COMPLETE THE COURSE OF BUSINESS TRAINING.

With such a preparation in the common English branches as a student may acquire in a common school, or as would secure admission to the Grammar Department of the Public Schools, one may enter the Senior Department of Business Training in the Business College, and with average ability and faithful labor, may complete the business course in one scholastic year.

At the same time the course is equally adapted to the need of graduates of High Schools, Academies and Colleges, for the training differs widely from what they have received, in that it purposes to make business and self-support the main considerations. Such students may complete the business course in less time than stated above.

DIPLOMA.

Those who complete the prescribed course, and pass a satisfactory examination, are awarded the Diploma of the International Association of Business Colleges. Diploma fee, $5.

JUNIOR DEPARTMENT.

In this department persons of good character, over fourteen years of age, who understand arithmetic through common fractions and denominate numbers, will be received for day sessions. The Junior Course embraces Penmanship, Spelling, Reading and Declamation, English Grammar and Letter Writing, Mental and Written Arithmetic, Elementary Book-keeping, Physical Training and Moral Culture.

The time usually required in this department is one year. The course is adapted to persons who are not qualified to at once enter the Senior or Business Department.

TUITION FEES FOR DAY SESSIONS.

(For either the Junior or Senior Departments.) By the quarter (twelve weeks) payable on admission, $20. By the year, (a scholarship for ten months,) $60, payable $10 at time of admission and the remainder in monthly installments of $10 each.

If a year’s scholarship is paid in full on registration and admission, a discount of $10 is allowed, reducing the cost per year to $50. This is the least expensive arrangement for entering the College. The discount is not made except for cash at time of entering.

Note.—Students entering for a year on the installment plan, and not completing the contract, are charged the quarterly rate.

COST OF BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Books and stationery for the Business Course cost $10 to $15, varying according to the taste and management of the student.

For a pupil in the Junior Department the cost of books and stationery is from $6 to $9 for the year.

The articles for the student’s outfit may be purchased at the College at lowest prices for cash, thus saving all trouble and delay in obtaining them.

SPECIAL BUSINESS COURSE.

Persons who have been so thoroughly trained in the English Language and Mathematics, as not to need further instruction in those branches, can enter for the “Special Business Course,” embracing Book-keeping, Business Practice, Business Penmanship, Business Correspondence and Lectures. Tuition fees same as stated above for regular course, as tuition is charged for time of attendance, not for number of branches pursued.

EVENING SESSIONS.

The Business Course can be completed by attending evening sessions, and the College Diploma secured upon passing the final examination.

FOR WHOM DESIGNED.

The evening sessions, which are entirely distinct from the day sessions, are designed for the instruction of men, women and youth, without regard to age, who are engaged during the day in offices and in various kinds of business, but wish to secure a practical education, that will enable them to obtain better positions and higher pay.

The exercises are conducted in such a manner that no embarrassment is experienced by the most backward student who is earnestly endeavoring to improve opportunities.

EVENINGS AND HOURS.

The sessions are held on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of each week from September to July. The hours of instruction are from 6 to 8.30 o’clock P. M.
EVENING TUITION.

Six dollars per month, payable at the beginning of each month. This fee entitles the student to instruction in all the branches of the Evening Course, or in such branches as he may select with the advice of his teachers.

TIME TO ENTER.

The College is open for the reception of evening students, Monday, August 23, and instruction will begin Monday evening, August 30, at 6 P. M.; but students may be received in the evening classes at any time, by the month.

ATTENDANCE.

Regularity of attendance is expected from every student. A register is kept, and satisfactory explanations are required in cases of absence.

BOARD.

Board, including room, &c., in families for students from abroad, may be obtained for $18 to $25 per month, upon application at the College. No city and no Institution in the United States can offer better inducements.

HOME STUDY.

No satisfactory progress can be secured by a student who spends his evenings in idleness, in society, or in the demoralizing associations of the street. One only is worthy the name of student whose main occupation is study.

As a rule, young persons who enter our College with the assumption that they do not need to study at home, that such regulations are only applicable to persons of ordinary ability, but their superior intellects can easily win the race during school hours, ignoromously fail to achieve even mediocrity in the classes, and find their level far below the faithful students, early in the course.

Necessarily the school hours, from 9 A. M. to 2.30 P. M., are chiefly occupied in recitations, exercises, and student's work.

Additional time is required for the preparation of at least three of the regular lessons. For this purpose each student should have a suitable place at home to write and study, and the parent or guardian should kindly, but firmly and uniformly, require him to devote himself to the preparation of these lessons.

The student does not need to be instructed or helped in his lessons at home, as generally no tasks are assigned that he cannot, with a reasonable amount of practice and application, perform alone. When insurmountable difficulties occur, they should be noted in writing, and presented to the teacher at next recitation. It is not the teacher's province to relieve the student of mental effort by doing his work in advance, but to help and encourage personal exertion by a friendly suggestion, after a difficulty has been encountered.

Parents and guardians who have a genuine regard for children under their charge will take pleasure in co-operating with the teachers in securing a profitable use of evening hours.

FRENCH, GERMAN AND PHONOGRAPHY.

Ladies and gentlemen desiring instruction in these branches, upon application at the College, will be introduced to the ablest professors, who will give instruction at their own residences. Arrangements can also be made for private instruction in the higher mathematics, and Latin and Greek.

BUREAU OF STUDENT'S WORK.

A feature of the College which is of special interest to parents is a large walnut cabinet containing a section for each student, wherein he keeps a specimen of every variety of his own work for each month in the year. Here is deposited his first and latest specimen of penmanship, correspondence, notes, drafts, bills, receipts, checks, bonds, Cash Book, Day Book, Journal and Ledger entries, business calculations and reports of his business observations in the Government Departments, and in the banks and business houses of Washington. Parents desiring to observe the progress of their sons and daughters are invited to examine these specimens at their own convenience.

RELIGION, POLITICS AND MORALS.

Every variety of religious belief, and every shade of political opinion, find representatives in the large number of students—sons and daughters of intelligent, respectable citizens—who annually receive training at the Business College. While every opportunity to inculcate principles and establish habits of strict integrity and sound morality is improved, it is not deemed just or wise to interfere in any manner with the religious faith or political opinions of students who attend the institution.
TO STUDENTS, PARENTS AND GUARDIANS.

The Golden Rule—"All things whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them."—comprehends all other rules of life; but since self-love in the individual man predominates over love to the neighbor, the Golden Rule is seldom thought of or regarded. Therefore, specific rules or laws, are required in educational institutions, as in communities, to secure that order and harmony necessary to the protection, happiness and progress of each individual member.

Contract.—Each student upon entering the Spencerian Business College, in consideration of the advantages secured, agrees to comply, according to the best of his or her ability, with the following

RULES OF THE COLLEGE.

1. Attendance.—To be regular in attendance, and punctual at the opening of each session.

2. Excuses.—To render, if a minor, written excuses from parents or guardians for absence or tardiness on the day following the same; or, if an adult, to render satisfactory verbal explanations.

3. Work.—To be prompt and thorough in preparation of work, to engage earnestly in each recitation and to participate cheerfully in general exercises.

4. Communications.—To abstain absolutely from making communications to other students while in the college, either by whispering, speaking, writing, or any manner of motion, except by and with special permission first obtained in each case at a teacher's desk.

5. Remaining in Seat.—To occupy quietly the seat assigned, and not to leave it under any pretext without permission obtained from the teacher.

6. Neatness.—To be tidy in person, to keep books and papers properly arranged in the desk, and the floor around the desk free from litter.

7. Order and Harmony.—To observe a quiet and orderly demeanor in passing to and from recitations, during intermissions, and on entering and leaving the College building and halls, and to contribute by precept and personal example, as far as possible, to the general order and harmony of the institution.

SPECIAL BUSINESS REQUIREMENTS.

Tuition are to be adjusted when the student enters the College. When a scholarship is engaged for or by a Student, upon an agreement to pay the amount in monthly installments, said payments are invariably expected when due. Neglect to pay tuition installments forfeits the privileges of the institution.

Withdrawals from Classes.—Students sent by parents or guardians are not permitted to withdraw from any of their classes, or from any general exercises, except by request of those who send them, made in person at the College office.

Full Sessions.—Students in regular course are required to attend the full number of school hours, each day or evening, and cannot be excused, either upon their own request or that of parents or guardians, before the close of a session, except for sickness.

Removal of Books, etc.—Students are instructed to take away all their books and materials when they are to be absent for more than one week.

A PRACTICAL ILLUSTRATION.

We were looking over General Garfield's address on "Elements of Success," (copious extracts from which are presented on pages 8 and 9 of this pamphlet,) and just reading this paragraph

"There is scarcely a more pitiable sight than to see here and there learned men, so called, who have graduated in our own and the Universities of Europe with high honors—men who know the whole gamut of classical learning—who have sounded the depths of mathematical and speculative philosophy—and yet who could not harness a horse or make out a bill of sale if the world depended upon it.

when a neighbor came in to submit the following: A gentleman of foreign birth acquainted with fourteen different languages, upon whose education thousands of dollars had been expended, has found it impossible to earn his living in the United States. He is trying to sell an article for parlor use, which some one kindly advances to him, at a profit of only a few cents each day. He has pawned his clothing and personal effects, is neat, gentlemanly and refined in his habits, but suffering for the comforts of life. We were asked what occupation could be found for this gentleman. Alas! we know of none. What is the preventive of such "pitiable sights?" Business training. What the remedy in such cases? Business training.
ELEMENTS OF SUCCESS.

"Extracts from an address by Hon. James A. Garfield, on the occasion of the graduating exercises of this Institution, June 29, 1869.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: I feel a profounder reverence for a boy than for a man. I never meet a ragged boy of the street without feeling that I may owe him a salute, for I know not what possibilities may be buttoned up under his shabby coat. When I meet you in the full flush of mature life, I see nearly all there is of you; but among these boys are the great men of the future—the heroes of the next generation, the philosophers, the statesmen, the philanthropists, the great reformers and moulders of the next age. Therefore, I say, there is a peculiar charm to me in the exhibitions of young people engaged in the business of education.

But there was a reason of public policy which brought me here to-night, and it was to testify to the importance of these Business Colleges, and to give two or three reasons why they have been established in the United States. I wish every college president in the United States could hear the first reason I propose to give. Business Colleges, my fellow-citizens, originated in this country as a protest against the insufficiency of our system of education— as a protest against the failure, the absolute failure, of our American schools and colleges to fit young men and women for the business of life. Take the great classes graduated from the leading colleges of the country during this and the next month, and how many, or rather, how few, of their members are fitted to go into the practical business of life, and transact it like sensible men! These Business Colleges furnish their graduates with a better education for practical purposes than either Princeton, Harvard or Yale.

The people are making a grave charge against our system of higher education when they complain that it is disconnected from the active business of life. It is a charge to which our colleges cannot plead guilty and live. They must rectify the fault, or miserably fail of their great purpose. There is scarcely a more pitiable sight than to see here and there learned men, so called, who have graduated in our own and the universities of Europe with high honors—men who know the whole gamut of classical learning— who have sounded the depths of mathematical and speculative philosophy—and yet who could not harness a horse or make out a bill of sale if the world depended upon it. [Applause.]

The fact is that our curriculum of college studies was not based on modern ideas, and has not grown up to our modern necessities. The prevailing system was established at a time when the learning of the world was in Latin and Greek.    The universities of Europe, from which our colleges were copied, were founded before the modern languages were born.    The reasons for a course of study then are not good now. The old necessities have passed away. We now have strong and noble living languages, rich in literature, replete with high and earnest thought; the language of science, religion and liberty, and yet we bid our children to feed their spirits on the life of dead ages, instead of the inspiring life and vigor of our own times. I do not object to classical learning—far from it—but I would not have it exclude the living present. Therefore I welcome the Business College in the form it has taken in the United States, because it meets an acknowledged want, by affording to young people of only common scholastic attainments, and even to the classes that graduate from Harvard and Yale, an opportunity to learn important and indispensable lessons before they go out into the business of life. *

There is another reason why I am glad that these Business Colleges have been established in this country, and particularly in the city of Washington. If there be any city on this continent where such institutions are needed more than in any other, it is here in this city, for the benefit of the employees of the United States.

Allow me, young ladies and gentlemen, to turn aside for one moment to speak of what relates to your business life. If I could speak one sentence which would be echoed through every department of the Government, addressing myself not to those in middle life whose plans for the future are fixed, but to those who are beginning life, I would say to every young man and woman in the civil service of the Government, "Hasten by the most rapid steps to get out of these departments into active, independent business life." [Applause.] Do not misunderstand me. Your work is honorable—honorable to yourselves and necessary to the Government. I make no charge on that score; but to a young man, who has in himself the magnificent possibilities of life, it is not fitting that he should be permanently commanded; he should be a commander. [Applause.] You must not continue to be the employed; you must be an employer. You must be promoted from the ranks to a command. There is something, young men, which you can command—go and find it, and command it. *

There is another reason—the last I shall give in illustrating the importance of Business Colleges—and that is the consideration which was so beautifully and cogently urged, a few moments since, by the young lady who delivered the valedictory of her class, that it is almost surpleslus to add a word to her discussion. The career opened in Business Colleges, especially in this, for young women is a most important and noteworthy feature of these institutions.

Laugh at it as we may, put it aside as a jest if we will, keep it out of Congress or political campaigns, still, the woman question is rising in our horizon larger than the size of a man's hand; and some solution, ere long, that question must find. I have not yet committed my mind to any formula that embraces the whole question. I halt on the threshold of so great a problem: but there is one point on which I have reached a conclusion, and that is, that this nation must open up new avenues of work and usefulness to the women of the country, so that everywhere they may have something to do. This is, just now, infinitely more valuable to them than the platform or the ballot-box. Whatever conclusion shall be reached on that subject by-and-by, at present the most valuable gift which can be bestowed on women is something to do, which they can do well and worthily, and thereby maintain themselves. Therefore, I say that every thoughtful statesman will look with satisfaction on such Business Colleges as are opening a career for our young women. On that score we have a special reason to be thankful for the establishment of these institutions.

[Applause.]

Now, young gentlemen, let me, for a moment, address you touching your success in life; and I hope the brevity of my remarks will increase the chance of their making a lodgment in your minds. Let me beg you, in the outset of your career, to dismiss from your minds all idea of succeeding by luck. There is no more common thought among young people than that foolish one that by-and-by something will turn up by which they will suddenly achieve fame or fortune. No, young gentlemen; things don't turn up in this world unless somebody turns them up. Inertia is one of the indispensable laws of matter, and things lie flat where they are until some intelligent spirit (for nothing but spirit makes motion in this world) they are endowed with activity and life. Do not dream that some good luck is going to happen to you and give you fortune. Luck is an ignis fatuus. You may follow it to ruin; but not to success. The great Napoleon, who believed in his destiny, followed it until he saw his star go down in blackest night, when the Old Guard perished around him, and Waterloo was lost. A pound of piuck is worth a ton of luck.

Young men talk of trusting to the spur of the occasion. That trust is vain. Occasions cannot make spurs, young gentlemen. If you expect to wear spurs, you must win them. If you wish to use them, you must buckle them to your own heels before you go into the fight. Any success you may achieve is not worth the having unless you fight for it. Whatever you win in life you must conquer by your own efforts, and then it is yours—a part of yourself. [Applause.]

About forty years ago, a young lad who had come from the Catskill mountains, where he had learned the rudiments of penmanship by scribbling on the sole leather of a good old Quaker shoemaker (for he was too poor to buy paper) till he could write better than his neighbors, commenced to teach in that part of Ohio which has been called "benighted Ashtabula"—(I suggest "bennighted" as the proper spelling of the word.) He set up a little writing school in a rude log cabin, and threw into the work the fervor of a poetic soul, and a strength of heart and spirit that few men possess. He caught his ideals of beauty from the waves of the lakes, and the curves they made upon the white sand beach, and from the treacery of the spider's web. Studying the lines of beauty as drawn by the hand of nature, he wrought out that system of penmanship which is now the pride of our college, and the model of our schools. It is the system you have been learning in this college, and which is so worthily represented by the son of its author—my friend, Professor Spencer, your able instructor. [Applause.] This is an example of what a man may do by putting his whole heart into the work he undertakes. [Applause.]

Young gentlemen, let not poverty stand as an obstacle in your way. Poverty is unfortable, as I can testify; but nine times out of ten the best thing that can happen to a young man is to be tossed overboard and compelled to sink or swim for himself. In all my acquaintance, I have never known one to be drowned who was worth the saving. Men succeed because they deserve success. Their results are wrought out; they do not come to hand already made. Poets may be born, but success is made. [Applause.]

One thought more and I will close. Let me suggest, that in giving you being, God locked up in your nature certain forces and capabilities. What will you do with them? Look at the mechanism of a clock. Take off the pendulum and ratchet and the wheels go rattling down, and all its force is expended in a moment; but properly balanced and regulated it will go on, letting out its force tick by tick, measuring hours and days, and doing faithfully the service for which it was designed. I implore you to cherish and guard and use well the forces that God has given to you. You may let them run down in a year, if you will. Take off the strong curb of discipline and morality, and you will be an old man before your twentieths are passed. Preserve these forces. Do not burn them out with brandy, or waste them in idleness and crime. Do not destroy them. Do not use them unworthy. Save and protect them that they may save for you fortune and fame. Honestly resolve to do this, and you will be an honor to yourself and to your country. [Applause.]
GRADUATING EXERCISES OF THE
SPENCERIAN BUSINESS COLLEGE, IN LINCOLN HALL, MAY 14th, 1880.
(From the Washington Daily Post.)

A YEAR'S WORK ENDED.

The graduating exercises of the senior class of the Spencerian Business College, at Lincoln hall last evening, were of an exceedingly interesting character, and formed a fitting continuation of similar events which have marked the history of this Institution. Long before the hour of commencement all the seats in the large hall were occupied, and the succeeding throng soon filled all the available standing room. In spite of the great crowd, however, there was no confusion, and the exercises were received with evident appreciation. The practical training which this Institution gives to its students does not neglect the cultivation of the beautiful, which fact was evidenced by the tasteful arrangement of the stage and the exquisite display of floral offerings. The rear of the stage displayed an artistic grouping of flags and banners, with the National coat of arms in the center.
Each side was tapestried with banners of harmonious colors, while across the top ran gally colored streamers, intertwined with festoons of ivy. At the front of the stage were heaped baskets, anchors, horseshoes, and bouquets of flowers, many of them very beautiful in design and color.

While the orchestra played a march dedicated to the Institution, the graduates filled in upon the stage, the ladies from one and the gentlemen from the other side, and took their places upon the platform. The exercises were opened with selections from the scriptures and prayer by the Rev. Jabez Fox. Prof. H. C. Spencer then introduced Anthony C. Fischer, the Salutatorian, who opened with some well chosen words of welcome, and then humor-ously described what his classmates were and what they expected to be. The Professor next introduced Miss Josephine Diebitsch, who read an essay entitled "Work and Training for Women." This young lady is an attractive blonde, with a well modulated voice. Her essay was an earnest protest against the narrowness of woman's sphere, and a plea for a higher aim as well as a higher education as the best conservator of home, and the most efficient training of children.

Mr. Frank P. King's oration on "Governmental Tendencies" was a thoughtful summary of the objects of government and its tendency towards monarchy, as evidenced by the drift towards a third term. Miss Josephine Hamilton, a bright and graceful young lady, read, in a clear voice, a pleasing poetical selection, which was well received. In the declamation on the "Dignity of Labor," Mr. Henry B. Bolton displayed fine oratorical powers, which, combined with an effective earnestness of manner, obtained the close attention of the audience and their hearty applause. Miss Gertrude E. Becker read one of Lord Bacon's pithy essays entitled "The Uses of a Friend," and her graceful delivery and pleasing manner gave a new meaning to the words of the father of modern philosophy. After a selection from "Martha" by the orchestra, Miss Estelle L. Langley was introduced, to whom had been awarded the honor of the valedictory on the part of the lady graduates. Miss Langley acquitted herself with great credit in an essay of a good deal more than average ability. The valedictory on behalf of the gentlemen graduates was delivered by Mr. Paul Cranford, a lad of sixteen. The youthful appearance of the speaker was in striking contrast with the thoughtfulness and logic of his address, which was excellent both in matter and manner. A feature of each of the exercises was their brevity and sprightliness. Next came the pleasing duty of conferring upon candidates the rewards of their diligence and faithfulness as students. Before conferring the diplomas upon the lady graduates Mrs.
Sara A. Spencer made a few prefatory remarks in her usually felicitous manner, which were heartily enjoyed by the audience. The following ladies received diplomas: Josephine Diebitsch, District of Columbia; Gertrude E. Becker, Virginia; Elizabeth Eckstein and Sarah Isabella Evans, District of Columbia; Jennie Hamilton, New York; Estelle L. Langley, valedictorian, New Hampshire.

Prof. Spencer, before conferring the diplomas upon the gentlemen graduates, made a brief speech, dwelling upon the importance of a sound and practical education. Diplomas were then conferred upon the following graduates: Arthur Lee Baillarge, Illinois; Henry B. Bolton, Vermont; George Bryan, Maryland; Thomas S. Carper, Virginia; William TRAINING OF SPENCERIAN TEACHERS AND ADEPTS.

A legible, rapid, beautiful style of penmanship is in itself a strong letter of recommendation announcing that the possessor is master of the most powerful instrument known to the business world—the pen. The large number of skillful “Spencerian penmen” engaged in the Government Departments and in the various business houses of Washington and throughout the country are constant proof of the practical value of the Spencerian system as taught by the Spencer Brothers.

Large numbers enter the College for instruction in penmanship only. Excellent facilities are afforded those who desire to become teachers of Spencerian penmanship to become thoroughly qualified.

SPENCERIAN PENMANSHIP.

SPECIAL LESSONS.

Without detracting from the other advantages of the Spencerian College, it can be truly said that it is famous for the superiority of its pupils in penmanship. Persons of all ages who desire to receive instruction in business penmanship only, can attend the regular classes, from 9 to 10 A. M., or from 6 to 7 P. M. Any person who has good common sense, one or two eyes, and five fingers on either hand, can learn to write well under the instruction given in this college. Tuition, $5 a month, (four lessons per week,) payable on entering. Writing material at the expense of the pupil. About 30 cents' worth required, and it may be obtained at the College.

THE SPENCER FAMILY.

Platt R. Spencer was the originator of the Spencerian Penmanship. The Spencer Brothers, sons of Platt R. Spencer, since the death of their father, which occurred in 1864, have continued the revision and publication of Spencerian Penmanship, and are known as the “Associate Spencerian Authors.”

The brothers are Robert C. Spencer, the eldest, principal and proprietor of Spencerian Business College, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Platt R. Spencer, Jr., principal and proprietor of Spencerian Business College, Cleveland, Ohio; Henry C. Spencer, proprietor and principal of Spencerian Business College, Washington, D. C.; Harvey A. Spencer, Dallas, Texas; and Lyman P. Spencer, employed in the preparation of Spencerian publications at Washington, District of Columbia.

THE EDUCATION OF GIRLS.

A young man who is willing to sit down in idleness, or devote his time to “society,” and live upon the earnings of his father, is justly looked upon as a useless if not dangerous member of society. No young man of spirit or principle will consent to do such a thing. And further, every man, however wealthy, if wise, teaches his son some business by which he can earn a livelihood. The same principle should be applied to girls. Every girl should be taught to be self-supporting,—should be taught that by her father. Every girl, whatever her social or pecuniary condition, is liable at some time in her life to be thrown upon her own resources and the cold charities of the world; and this emergency should be provided for. Besides, the ordinary duties of life require that boys and girls be taught to work, whether their parents are wealthy or not. Public sentiment is greatly at fault in this matter, especially with reference to girls, and teachers can do much in correcting this sentiment. They should teach the boys and girls in school that work is honorable and that idleness is dishonorable, and that it is the duty of every girl, as well as every boy, to learn how to earn a livelihood. It is not enough in this world that one be good; he must be good for something.—Indiana School Journal.

It is believed that they are more nearly alike in physique, voice, gesture, action and presence than any two brothers in this country, or, perhaps, in the world. Their nearest relatives and friends cannot fix their identity separately, without noting some point of difference in the fit of their garments.

Among the vast number of amusing incidents arising from confusion as to their individual identity, several are quoted. Travelling on the same train, one of the brothers handed his ticket to the conductor; further on in the car the other offered his ticket, and the conductor refused to receive it, saying, "you have given me one ticket and that is sufficient to carry you through on this train." At a Washington restaurant, H. A. procured his dinner, and soon after he had gone H. C. arrived, ordered and partook of a hearty meal, much to the astonishment of parties present, one of whom enquired how it was that a gentleman could get so hungry in ten minutes as to return and eat a second regular dinner. On a Potomac Steamer, H. A. was introduced to a gentleman, who had requested to be made acquainted with the two gentlemen bearing such a remarkable likeness to each other; soon after H. A. returned to the cabin and was introduced to him again, whereupon the gentleman claimed he could discern a great difference; but subsequently, on meeting H. A. and H. C. together, he could see no difference, and was unable to determine whether he had formed the acquaintance of one or both of them.

As Business Educators and associate authors of "Spencerian," the Spencer Brothers have almost a world wide reputation. As the founders and instructors of Educational Business and Writing Clubs they are disseminating, through their popular, interesting direct methods of instruction, a practical knowledge of those essential branches and qualifications belonging to a business education, not provided for in the curriculum of studies presented by the schools of the country; and during the past twenty years they have given instruction in practical penmanship to more than 150,000 students. Under their direction learners, if not under twelve nor more than sixty years of age, change from bad to good writing in from eight to twelve lessons, as may be seen by examining the accompanying fac-simile average samples, herewith presented, from the volumes of chirographic specimens received from the hands of their students. The intention of the Spencer Brothers is to establish Business and Writing Educational Clubs in the leading cities of the United States and Canadas, and reach the youth of the country with such practical instruction as is known to be indispensable in the successful prosecution of business pursuits.

LIBRARIES.

There are libraries in the Departments of the Government accessible to the employees. In addition there are Private Circulating Libraries, besides the following. The aggregate number of volumes in the city, including the following, is over 500,000.

The Young Men's Christian Association has a library of its own, numbering 1,800 volumes, and has charge of a library belonging to the Washington City Library Company. The rates of subscription for the use of both libraries is $2 per annum. The use of the libraries is free to all members of the association.

Washington Library, in Young Men's Christian Association Building. F H Smith, President; J Meigs, Secretary.

Odd Fellows' Library Association, Odd Fellows' Hall. President, H C Stevens; Vice-President; Secretary, J M Folin; Treasurer, J S Bolwby. Open every night except Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The Library of Congress occupies the central west front of the central Capitol building. The original library was commenced in 1800, but was destroyed with the Capitol in 1814, during the war with England. It was afterwards replenished by the purchase of the library belonging to Ex-President Jefferson, by Congress, embracing about 7,000 volumes. In 1851 it contained 55,000 volumes, and by an accidental fire in that year the whole collection was destroyed, except 29,000 volumes. It was rebuilt in 1852, when $75,000 was appropriated in one sum to replenish the collection. The new library halls, three in number, are fitted up with ornamental iron cases and iron ceilings, the whole being perfectly fire-proof. The library is recruited by regular appropriations made by Congress, which average about $11,000 per annum; also by additions received by copyright, and from the Smithsonian Institution. The library of the Smithsonian Institution has now been deposited in the library of Congress, where it is secured against loss by fire. This collection is especially rich in scientific works, embracing the largest assemblage of the transactions of learned societies which exist in the country. The library of copyright books was removed here from the Patent Office in 1870, and all copyrights issued in the United States are now recorded in the books deposited in the office of the librarian of Congress. The present number of volumes in the whole library, including law books, which are kept in a separate library under the Supreme Court, is over 800,000. This collection is very rich in history, political science, jurisprudence, and in books, pamphlets and periodicals of American publication, or relating in any way to America. At the same time the library is a universal one in its range, no department of literature or science being unrepresented. The public are privileged the use of the books in the library, while members of Congress and about thirty official members of the government only can take away books. The library is open every day (Sundays excepted) during the session of Congress, from 9 A. M. to the hour of adjournment. In the recess of Congress it is open between the hours of 9 A.M. and 4 P.M. Homes.

Soldiers’ Home. Is located on Rock creek church road at intersections of Harewood road, covering about 300 acres. Was founded in 1851 under act of Congress, approved March 3, 1851, as a “Military Asylum,” which designation was changed to “Soldiers’ Home,” by act of Congress, approved March 3, 1859.

Its object is to furnish a permanent and comfortable home for old or disabled soldiers of the U S Army.

Its general government is administered by a Board of Commissioners, consisting of the Adjutant General of the army, the Surgeon General of the army and Commanding General of Subsistence U S Army. Its officers are a governor, a deputy governor, a secretary, a treasurer and a surgeon.

Members of the Home who are entitled to its benefits are soldiers of the U S army, who have served faithfully twenty years, or who have been disabled in the service and in the line of duty so as to disqualify them for further military service, and also pensioners of the regular army. CONGRESSIONAL DIRECTORY.

THE CAPITOL.

The Capitol fronts the east, and stands on a plateau ninety feet above the level of the Potomac, in latitude 38° 55’ 48” north and longitude 77° 1’ 48” west from Greenwich.

The southeast corner-stone of the original building was laid on the 18th of September, 1793, by President Washington, aided by the Freemasons of Maryland. It was constructed of sandstone, painted white, from an island in Aquia creek, Virginia, under the direction of Stephen H. Hallett, James Hoban, George Hadfield, and afterwards of B. H. Latrobe, architects. The north wing was finished in 1800, and the south wing in 1811, a wooden passage way connecting them. On the 24th of August, 1814, the interior of both wings was destroyed by British incendiaries, but they were immediately rebuilt.

In 1818 the central portion of the building was commenced under the architectural superintendence of Charles Bulfinch, and the original building was finally completed in 1827. Its cost, including the grading of the grounds, alterations and repairs up to 1827, was $2,433,844.13.

The corner-stone of the extensions to the Capitol was laid on the 4th of July, 1851, by President Fillmore, Daniel Webster officiating as orator of the day. Thomas U. Walter was architect, and subsequently Edward Clark, under whose direction the work was completed in November, 1867. The material used for the extension is white marble from the quarries at Lee, Massachusetts, with white marble columns from the quarries at Cockeysville, Maryland.

The dome of the original central building was constructed of wood, but was removed in 1858 to be replaced by the present stupendous structure of cast iron, which was completed in 1865. The entire weight of iron used is 8,909,200 pounds.

The main building is three hundred and fifty-two feet four inches long in front and one hundred and twenty-one feet six inches deep, with a portico one hundred and sixty feet wide, of twenty-four columns on the east, and a projection of eighty-three feet on the west, embracing a recessed portico of ten coupled columns. The extensions are placed at the north and south ends of the main building, with connecting corridors forty-four feet long by fifty-six feet wide, flanked by columns. Each extension is one hundred and forty-two feet eight inches in front, by two hundred and thirty-eight feet ten inches deep, with porticos of twenty-two columns each on their eastern fronts, and with porticos of ten columns on their ends and on their western fronts. The entire length of the building is seven hundred and fifty-one feet four inches, and the greatest depth, including porticos and steps, is three hundred and twenty-four feet. The area covered by the entire building is one hundred and fifty-three thousand one hundred and twelve square feet.

The dome is crowned by a bronze statue of Freedom, modeled by Crawford, which is nineteen feet six inches high, and which weighs 14,985 pounds. The height of the dome above the base line of the east front is two hundred and eighty-seven feet eleven inches; the height from the top of
